Item 2 Educational Background and Business Experience

ERIC C. BROWN, CFA Born 1969

Post-Secondary Education:

Springfield College - 1996, MS, Education
Trinity College - 1992, BA, Political Science
Chartered Financial Analyst 2000

Recent Business Background:

Copeland Capital Management, LLC, 07/05 - Present, Partner, Chief Executive Officer,
Portfolio Manager, Member of the Management Committee
The Colony Group LLC, 06/02 - 07/05, Portfolio Manager
Bingham Legg Advisers LLC, 11/99 - 06/02, Portfolio Manager

The Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) charter is a globally respected, graduate-level investment credential established in 1962 and awarded by CFA Institute — the largest global association of investment professionals. To earn the CFA charter, candidates must:

- 1) pass three sequential, six-hour examinations;
- 2) have at least four years of qualified professional investment experience;
- 3) join CFA Institute as members; and
- 4) commit to abide by, and annually reaffirm, their adherence to the CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct.

High Ethical Standards

The CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct, enforced through an active professional conduct program, require CFA charter holders to:

- Place their clients' interests ahead of their own
- Maintain independence and objectivity
- Act with integrity
- Maintain and improve their professional competence
- Disclose conflicts of interest and legal matters

Global Recognition

Passing the three CFA exams is a difficult feat that requires extensive study (successful candidates report spending an average of 300 hours of study per level). Earning the CFA charter demonstrates mastery of many of the advanced skills needed for investment analysis and decision making in today's quickly evolving global financial industry. As a result, employers and clients are increasingly seeking CFA charter holders—often making the charter a prerequisite for employment. Additionally, regulatory bodies in 22 countries and territories recognize the CFA charter as a proxy for meeting certain licensing requirements, and more than 125 colleges and universities around the world have incorporated a majority of the CFA Program curriculum into their own finance courses.

To learn more about the CFA charter, visit www.cfainstitute.org.

A Certified Public Accountant (CPA) is an accounting professional who has passed the Uniform CPA Examination and has also met additional state certification and experience requirements.

The Uniform CPA Examination currently consists of four sections; these four sections represent a total of 14 hours of testing:

Auditing and Attestation (AUD)

Business Environment and Concepts (BEC)

Financial Accounting and Reporting (FAR)

Regulation (REG)

To learn more about the CPA designation, visit www.aicpa.org.

A Chartered Global Management Accountant (CGMA) is a professional management accounting designation issued beginning in January 2012. The CGMA mission is to promote the science of management accounting on global stages. The CGMA designation champions management accountants and the value they add to organizations.

Two of the world's most prestigious accounting bodies, AICPA and CIMA, have formed a joint venture to establish the CGMA designation.

The designation recognizes the most talented and committed management accountants with the discipline and skill to drive strong business performance. The route to the CGMA designation includes a combination of exams, experience and is educationally equivalent to a master's degree.

The Juris Doctor (JD), also called a Doctor of Law or Doctorate of Jurisprudence, is the law degree typically awarded by an accredited U.S. law school after successfully completing three years of post-graduate law study. Those who hold the degree of Juris Doctor are professionals committed to the practice of law, and they are primarily concerned with ensuring that laws are upheld and followed in a variety of circumstances. JD program general requirements:

- Undergraduate degree from an accredited college or university.
- Law School Admission Test (LSAT).
- Accepted by the program based on its selection criteria.
- Completion of required coursework with a passing grade.
- Successfully pass the bar exam to be licensed to practice law within their jurisdiction.

Professionals who pass the required bar examination are known as lawyers or attorneys, and they are designated by the suffix esquire (Esq.).

JAMES C. SPENCER, CMT Born 1966

Post-Secondary Education

Washington College - BA 1989
Saint Joseph's University - MBA 1998
Chartered Market Technician 2001

Recent Business Background:

Copeland Capital Management, LLC, 08/2009 - Present, Partner, Performance & Risk Analytics Manager, Director of Fixed Income
Rorer Asset Management LLC, 1/99 - 7/2009, Vice President, Senior Fixed Income Portfolio Manager

Chartered Market Technician (CMT) is a professional designation that confirms proficiency in technical analysis of the financial markets. To hold the designation, membership in the Market Technicians Association is required. The CMT designation requires completion of an education program and examination series in technical analysis. The Market Technicians Association (MTA) oversees the program curriculum and administration of exams. Candidates who pass all three examination levels of the program can earn the Chartered Market Technician designation, which certifies that the individual is competent in technical analysis.

The CMT program

The Chartered Market Technician program is a primary part of the MTA's larger mission to:

- "Educate the public and the investment community to the value and universality of technical analysis"
- "Attract and retain a membership of professionals devoting their efforts to using and expanding the field of technical analysis and sharing their body of knowledge with their fellow members"
- "Establish, maintain and encourage the highest standards of professional competence and ethics among technical analysts."

The MTA began to develop the CMT program in 1985. Just as other professional organizations have standards of competence for members, so the CMT designation provides a recognized standard of proficiency for technical analysts.

The three-part CMT examination includes:

1. Definitions ("terminology, charting methods, and ethics")
2. Application ("concepts such as "Dow Theory, Elliott Wave, intermarket, etc.")
3. Integration ("competency in ethics and in rendering technical opinions integrating multiple aspects of technical analysis. Essay responses should be of the quality of technical research published by practicing CMT charter holders.")

To learn more about the CMT, visit www.mta.org.

The Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) charter is a globally respected, graduate-level investment credential established in 1962 and awarded by CFA Institute — the largest global association of investment professionals. To earn the CFA charter, candidates must:

- 1) pass three sequential, six-hour examinations;
- 2) have at least four years of qualified professional investment experience;
- 3) join CFA Institute as members; and
- 4) commit to abide by, and annually reaffirm, their adherence to the CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct.

High Ethical Standards

The CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct, enforced through an active professional conduct program, require CFA charter holders to:

- Place their clients' interests ahead of their own
- Maintain independence and objectivity
- Act with integrity
- Maintain and improve their professional competence
- Disclose conflicts of interest and legal matters

Global Recognition

Passing the three CFA exams is a difficult feat that requires extensive study (successful candidates report spending an average of 300 hours of study per level). Earning the CFA charter demonstrates mastery of many of the advanced skills needed for investment analysis and decision making in today's quickly evolving global financial industry. As a result, employers and clients are increasingly seeking CFA charter holders—often making the charter a prerequisite for employment. Additionally, regulatory bodies in 22 countries and territories recognize the CFA charter as a proxy for meeting certain licensing requirements, and more than 125 colleges and universities around the world have incorporated a majority of the CFA Program curriculum into their own finance courses.
